DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-11, 14-26, 29, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Taplan et al 5653219.

Taplan discloses: a gas burner (3), a cooktop (2) configured to cover a burner box (5) and having at least one peripheral vent cut (8) configured to vent outside air into the burner box to provide air for the gas burner (10 is the air supply, see Figure 1); and a vent trim (15) attached to said cooktop and covering the vent cut (Figure 6a), said vent trim having a surface with openings above a top surface of the cooktop (col. 2, lines 41, 42), wherein said openings are configured to allow outside air to enter the vent cut through the vent trim (col. 2, line 49).

Regarding the limitations “peripheral” and “front side”, Taplan discloses that the air vent can be located in various places, including on the edge of the front surface (Figure 1).

Regarding claims 10 and 25, the vent cover also has a raised surface isolating the vent opening from spills on the cooktop (col. 1, lines 49-51).

Regarding claims 3, 8, 14, 18, 23 and 29, the vent trim is sealed in water-tight engagement (col. 1, lines 48).

Regarding claim 5, 9, 20, and 24, the portions of element 15 in Figure 6a that are horizontally oriented are read as the claimed clip(s).

Regarding claims 11 and 26, the cover fills the entire gap along a surface of the cooktop (col. 2, lines 14-16), so it must necessarily extend along the entire side.

Regarding claims 2, 6, 7, 17, 21 and 22, the vent extends along an entire side, either the front side (Figure 1) or rear side (Figure 2), so the vent cut necessarily includes two corners of the cooktop.

Regarding claims 4, 15, 19 and 30, the seal is adhesive tape (col. 2, line 64).

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 10, 12, 25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taplan et al 6807962.

Taplan discloses: a gas burner (12), a cooktop (1) configured to cover a burner box (Figure 1D, element 91) and having at least one peripheral vent cut (Figure 5, element 7) configured to vent outside air into the burner box to provide air for the gas burner (col. 8, line 33); and a vent trim (Figure 11, element 24) attached to said cooktop and covering the vent cut (col. 9, lines 50-53), said vent trim having a surface with openings above a top surface of the cooktop (Figure 11, also see "lattice" in col. 8, line

Art Unit: 3749

33), wherein said openings are configured to allow outside air to enter the vent cut through the vent trim (col. 10, line 42).

5. Regarding claims 10 and 25, Figure 11 clearly shows that the vent cover (24) is raised above the top surface of the cooktop (1), and therefore is capable of isolating spills from the vent cover.

6. Regarding claims 12 and 27, the vent cut is along an edge of said cooktop exclusive of a corner of said cooktop (Figure 5).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

8. Claims 13 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Taplan '962.

9. As discussed above in the 35 U.S.C. 102(e) rejection, Taplan '962 shows one vent cut located at an edge of the cooktop, not a plurality of vent cuts.

10. The courts have held that duplication of parts for amplified effect does not distinguish over the prior art (In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960), also MPEP 2144.04 B).

Art Unit: 3749

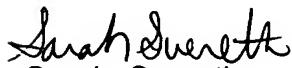

11. In the instant case, the amplified effect would be a more effective ventilation system.
